To: BSA Delegates at Member and Participating Manufacturer Companies

You and others from your company are cordially invited to attend the BSA 2015 Convention! In case you are wondering who else from your company to bring, we wanted to share BSA's attendance policy. It is also available on the BSA website and will be on the 2015 Convention website.

Participating Manufacturers: Top level executives and their spouses are encouraged to attend. Registrations from Senior Management or higher are automatically accepted. Young Executives and Regional Managers are also encouraged to attend as long as a qualifying invitee from the company is in attendance. A young executive is defined as a professional currently in management or executive development positions within their companies. These individuals are naturally poised for long-term leadership roles within our industry and our association.

Members: Top level executives, young executives and other personnel the member company feels are appropriate and their spouses are encouraged to attend. Every member company is encouraged to have representation at the annual convention, because participation from every member company increases the value of the convention for everyone in the organization.

Potential Members and Participating Manufacturers: For the past several years, top level executives from preapproved authorized distributor and participating manufacturer companies have been invited to attend the convention and a special offer of one year complimentary membership has been offered to those who actually attend the convention.

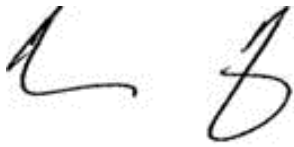

Trade Press: Any trade press personnel acting in an editorial capacity are extended one complimentary registration per company or publication for BSA's annual convention. Spouses, publishers, and other trade press personnel who may attend the convention pay the reduced "spouse" registration fee.

Honorary Members and Lifetime Achievement Award recipients are also invited to attend.

Special Rules: It is a policy of BSA that no one shall schedule or conduct any event, function or private meeting that overlaps with or detracts from BSA programs, meetings or social functions other than tours.

If you have any questions please feel free to contact me or Jerilyn Church in the BSA office.

I am excited about next year's convention and look forward to seeing you there!
